Boeings' Closing Advanced Month

Boeing Aircraft of Canada Company Ltd. today announced cancellation of a contract for building 25 Catalina planes and said this move would advance by one month the closing of sub-assembly plants at Victoria, Nelson and Chilliwack, and also curtailment of staffs in the three main plants in the Vancouver area.

Tuesday it was announced sub-assembly plants would close early in 1945. Gradual reduction of these staffs will begin before the end of this year.

The Victoria sub-assembly plant employs about 350, Nelson 100 and Chilliwack 200.

Hockey Players Work

PORT ARTHUR, Ont. (CP) — St. Louis Flyers of the American Hockey League, in pre-season training here, today started a four-hour daily work shift in Lakehead grain elevators. A. A. Heaps, Dominion grain controller, had asked assistance.

Maintenance Ship Crews Coming

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Daily Province said in a newspaper story this afternoon that before the end of this year "hundreds of men will be arriving here to man the fleet of 10,000-ton maintenance ships building at Vancouver yards for service on the ocean warfronts."

Each craft will be a complete naval machine shop and will carry a crew of several hundred men, the paper said. They would be specialists, recruited probably from the great naval arsenals of England.

"A few of the vessels may be manned by Canadians," the paper added.

Urges Hospitals Increase Efficiency

VANCOUVER (CP) — A federally-controlled system of health insurance "shackled by bureaucracy" would be ruinous to the voluntary hospitals in British Columbia, Dr. T. W. Walker, superintendent of the Jubilee Hospital, Victoria, and president of the B.C. Hospitals Association, told delegates to the annual association convention here today.

To remain in operation as the system chosen by the people of Canada, voluntary hospitals must show they can provide the required care "more efficiently, more economically and more humanely than a centralized, impersonal, bureaucratic organization operating by remote control from Ottawa," he said.

2 Soldiers Escape

VANCOUVER (CP) — Two 18-year-old soldiers believed to be absent without leave from an Alberta army unit escaped from a third-floor cell in the immigration building here yesterday, officials disclosed today. In the daylight escape was a witness who informed police but the men had disappeared by the time police arrived. The pair were being held pending arrival of an escort from Alberta.

3 Dead, 8 Missing In R.C.A.F. Wreck

Bomber Crashes Salt Spring Island In Early Hours

Three airmen were killed and eight others are missing in the crash of an R.C.A.F. bomber on Salt Spring Island in the early hours of this morning.

R.C.A.F. officials by land, in surface craft and aircraft are scouring the vicinity of the wreck in the hope that some or all of the missing eight may have parachuted to safety.

No cause for the crash has been discovered but air force officers, who arrived on the scene soon after 3 this morning by boat and plane are conducting an investigation.

Next-of-kin of the airmen involved have been notified and their names will be published shortly.

The crashed bomber took off during the night from a West Coast airbase.

Allies Ask Neutrals To Bar Nazi Loot

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and British governments have sent notes to neutral nations requesting that they prevent Axis leaders from "retaining their loot" or "finding safe haven" for their wealth in neutral territories.

Reviewing methods by which enemy officials and particularly Nazi leaders, have sought to plant wealth for their future use in neutral safety, a State Department statement issued today declared:

"In anticipation of impending defeat, the enemy is increasing these activities in order to salvage his assets and to perpetuate his economic influence abroad and his power and ability to plan future aggrandizement and world domination."

The request for measures against protecting the wealth of "enemy governments and leaders and their collaborators" apparently went to all neutral countries except Argentina.

Officials said that although Argentina is the one nation about which most apprehension has been expressed with respect to future Fascist activities, neither the British nor U.S. request went to Buenos Aires.

Maj. Gen. Keller On Hospital Ship

... On way home.

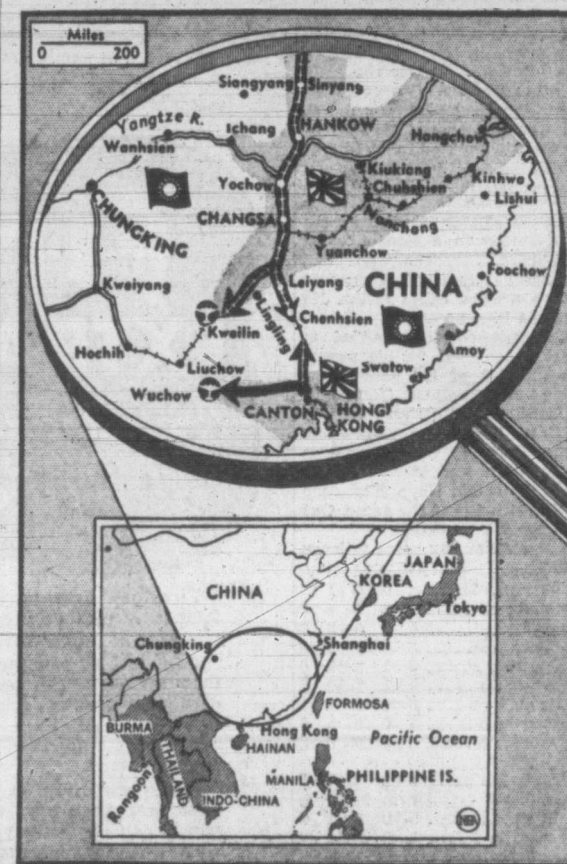

OTTAWA (CP) — Maj. Gen. R. F. L. Keller, commander of the 3rd Canadian Division, who was wounded in France in August, is expected to return to Canada shortly aboard a hospital ship with other repatriated army personnel, a Defence Department spokesman said today.

The spokesman said the exact date of Gen. Keller's arrival was not known.

Gen. Keller was decorated with the C.B.E. by the King in June.

Gen. Keller's wife, who lives with her two sons in Victoria, said today she had received no official word that her husband was returning to Canada.

Where Chinese Disaster Looms

The plight of Chinese armies resisting the advance of Japanese forces in south central China is causing the Allied high command considerable worry. Map above shows how Japs are steadily nearing their objective—to link forces coming down from the north with those driving up from Canton, to control entire length of Hankow-Canton railway. This would split Chinese forces, endanger Chungking, give the Japs a continuous line of land communication from north China to Hongkong. One of greatest setbacks for the Allies was the forced abandonment and destruction of U.S. 14th Air Force's major base at Kweilin.

Churchill Assures British M.P.'s Hitler Gang On List for Trial

LONDON (CP - Reuters) — Prime Minister Churchill made it clear in the House of Commons today that Hitler, Goering, Goebbels and Himmler were on the British list of war criminals.

Geoffrey Mandes, Liberal, had asked the Prime Minister whether the German leaders named were on the British and United Nations' list of Axis war criminals.

"So far as the British list is concerned," said Mr. Churchill, "the parties mentioned are included. It should not be assumed what procedure of trial will be necessarily adopted (cheers). I am not in a position to make any statement about the United Nations' list at the present time."

McQuinn's Homer With One On Wins For Browns, 2-1

SPORTSMAN'S PARK, ST. LOUIS—First baseman George McQuinn's towering two-run home run in the fourth inning, coupled with the brilliant pitching of Denny Galehouse, gave the St. Louis Browns, American League champions, a 2 to 1 victory today over their hometown National League rival Cardinals, in the opening game of the 41st World Baseball Series. Played in perfect weather, the classic attracted a crowd of 33,342.

Browns underdogs in the betting, won the game on two hits, as compared to the seven safeties the Cards collected off Galehouse. Tough luck that the has dogged Morton Cooper, number one pitcher of the Cardinals, in world series competition, caught up with him again today. After pitching hitless ball for three innings he gave up a single to right fielder Gene Moore, and McQuinn followed with his circuit blow to the top of the right field grandstand. Cooper remained in the game until removed for a pinch hitter in the last of the seventh, and allowed no more hits. Blix Donnelly, who replaced him, hurled hitless ball the last two innings.

After failing to score a run in the third inning when they filled the bases with only one away, the Cards got their lone counter in the ninth, when Marion smashed his second double, and eventually scored on a pair of outs.

Teams meet in the second game tomorrow.

Short score: R. H. E.
Browns 2 2 0
Cardinals 1 7 0
Batteries—Galehouse and Hayworth; M. Cooper, Donnelly and W. Cooper.

Brenner Pass Hit; Ruhr Isolated By Bombing of Canal

ROME (AP) — Strong forces of heavy bombers today assaulted the Munich rail yards and rail points on the Brenner and other lines leading into northeastern Italy.

SPREAD PARALYSIS

LONDON (CP) — Allied bombers kept up the pressure on Hitler's transportation system Tuesday night as the Ruhr valley, heart of industrial western Germany, lay paralyzed and cut off from many of the main rail and water connections with the rest of the Reich.

R.A.F. Mosquito bombers attacked 31 trains, 20 barges and 25 motor transports in Germany and Holland after more than 1,000 U.S. daylight bombers, out for the seventh time in nine days, had pummeled important industrial targets in southern Germany and R.A.F. heavies had started the flooding of the Dutch islands.

Tuesday night's total brought to 116 the number of trains attacked by Mosquitoes on three successive nights.

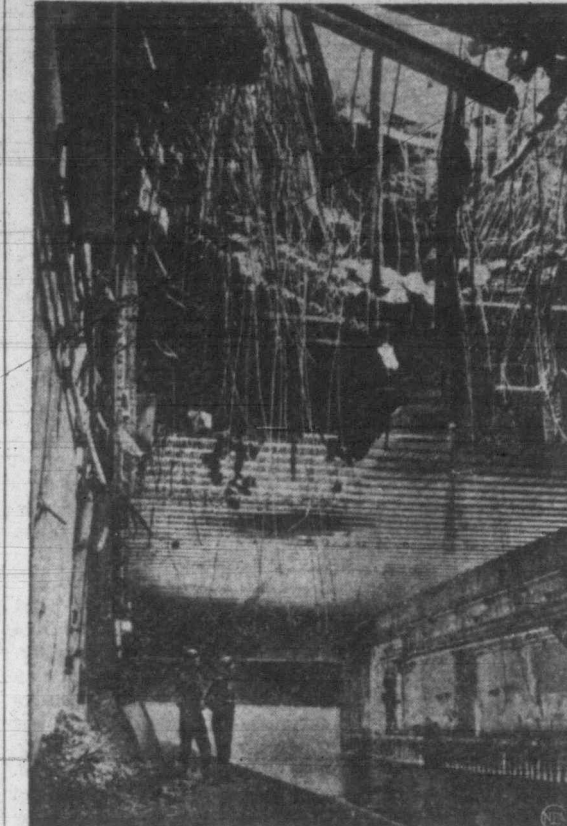

The Ruhr is reported to be completely isolated now by waterway, both from the North Sea and from central and eastern Germany, following the wrecking of the Dortmund-Ems Canal by British bombers Sept. 23.

The Air Ministry called it the "most important air attack on German communications so far" and added that the economic and military effects would be far-reaching.

NEW YORK — The French radio at Bordeaux today said Georges Carpentier, the former French heavyweight boxing champion, had been arrested in the Bordeaux area on charges of engaging in "collaborationist activities" during the German occupation.

Two Allied soldiers gaze at the gaping 40-foot hole left in the grass-camouflaged roof of a Nazi U-boat pen at Brest, France, and marvel at the intricate structure, wrecked when several direct hits smashed through the roof. Two other pens also were put out of commission before Brest was liberated.

Canadians Wait While Civilians Leave Dunkerque During Truce

By ROSS MUNRO

WITH THE 1ST CANADIAN ARMY (CP) — The first civilians began leaving Dunkerque today at 6 a.m. after a truce had been declared to allow some 20,000 to leave the port before the all-out assault begins.

At 6 p.m. Tuesday the armistice went into force according to an agreement made between the German commander of Dunkerque's garrison and the commander of the British troops of the Canadian army besieging the port. It will continue until 6 a.m. Friday.

The British commander drew up the terms and negotiations were carried out by letters taken in and out of Dunkerque by a British officer.

From 6 Tuesday night until 6 this morning was the period allowed for the repairing of the road leading south from the port. The town's population have from 6 this morning until 6 Thursday evening in which to withdraw. There then will be another 12-hour period during which the road will be redynamited and mined, and the fight will be on again at 6 a.m. Friday.

while these things were being arranged at the last Channel coast port still in enemy hands, Polish and British troops in the Canadian Army continued their advance on the western flank of the British 2nd Army.

Polish forces captured Baarle Nassau, three miles inside the Netherlands frontier and eight miles southwest of Tilburg, at 7 p.m. Tuesday and British troops thrust into Poppel, four miles east of Baarle Nassau.

The Germans had been preparing defence lines between those two towns, but a Canadian Army drive smashed through them.

German resistance has loosened considerably lately and there are growing indications the enemy may fall back to the mouth of the Meuse, eight miles north of Baarle Nassau.

There are an estimated 50,000 German troops in the area west of the 2nd Army wedge into Holland and south of the Rhine and Meuse estuary.

On the Antwerp sector, a small German force is holding out at Schooten, two miles east of Mersin, Antwerp's northern industrial suburb, which is in Canadian hands. Schooten, however, is entirely cut off by Canadians who have gone round it to the north.

Rear Defences Of Cologne Met By Yank Advance

By JAMES M. LONG

LONDON (AP) — U.S. tanks rumbled today into a 2½-mile breach torn in Germany's Siegfried Line, above Aachen, and fanned out, bringing their guns and armor into support of an infantry drive against backstop defences guarding Cologne.

The U.S. 1st Army smash had carried two miles into Germany itself, AP correspondent Don Whitehead reported. Supreme Headquarters earlier had declared the drive had carried three miles beyond Ubach, a mile inside the frontier, to one of the enemy's main escape roads above Aachen.

U.S. 3rd Army men 125 miles to the south fought as bitterly at Fort Driant, strongest of the ring of fortresses guarding Metz. Supreme Headquarters announced capture of the fort, but a later front dispatch said the Yanks were clinging to surface positions in the fort, which is honeycombed by tunnels against increasingly furious enemy resistance.

BATTER FORWARD

Canadian, British and Polish troops under Lt. Gen. Crerar fighting on the western flank of the British 2nd Army in Belgium and Holland continued to batter their way forward against slackening German resistance.

Seven miles north of Metz, U.S. units seized Mazières les Metz, and high ground on the Moselle's west bank along the Luxembourg-German frontier.

Favored by clearing weather on the Vosges front, the U.S. 7th Army liberated the villages of Grandvillers, Deyelmont and Lépanges, northeast of Epinal, and to the south edged farther into the valley entrance to the Belfort Gap.

Only fighting of note on the British 2nd Army front in Holland today came when Lt. Gen. Dempsey's men beat off a light counter-attack north of Nijmegen in a brief but fierce encounter.

Flood threat faced German troops on Walcheren Island, off the Dutch coast, where R.A.F. Lancasters Tuesday blew out 120 yards of the sea wall protecting the island from the North Sea.

Gen. Eisenhower had warned civilians to evacuate all the islands off the southwest coast of Holland.

Several big guns capable of sweeping approaches to Antwerp Harbor are located on Walcheren, westernmost one of the chain.

In their advance on the southwest sector of the British Netherlands salient, 1st Canadian Army troops took the important road junction of Withoft, eight miles northeast of Antwerp, and cut the Antwerp-Breda road.

Bad weather over the front line curtailed Tuesday's activities of French-based Allied aircraft, but altogether more than 550 fighter-bomber sorties were flown in support of ground troops.

Denies Majority Favor Strike

EDMONTON (CP) — Carl Berg, vice-president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, said today that C.I.O. union officials are trying to give the impression that majorities of packing plant workers in Canada are in favor of a strike in the industry.

Mr. Berg said that of a staff of about 650 at Canada Packers' Edmonton plant, only 130 attended the meeting Monday night. Of that figure, 127 voted for a strike and three against. He added that the result did not indicate the feeling of the majority of the workers, and was representative of a small minority.

John Lenglet, western Canada representative of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (C.I.O.), said Tuesday that 98 per cent of the employees of this plant had voted for strike action.

Mr. Berg termed these tactics indefensible, and added the same tactics were being carried on at other points in Canada.

LONDON (CP)—Mass production on a new victory uniform for the British army—to be known as "V-U"—will be started shortly. It was disclosed today, so it may be ready when Allied troops stage their expected victory march through Berlin.

The new uniform will not be of the battledress type, and military tailoring experts describe it as "the smartest thing ever."

Cut from khaki cloth, the tunic will have lapels and shiny plastic buttons and will be worn with collar and tie. The trousers are a non-crease style.

In Ottawa, Canadian army officials said descriptions of the new British uniform appeared to correspond closely to the walking-out uniform introduced in the Canadian army two years ago.

Warm-Hearted Welcome
Given New Chief Justice

CHIEF JUSTICE G. MCG. SLOAN

The bar of British Columbia welcomed the province's new Chief Justice, Hon. Gordon McG. Sloan, from the heart today as he made his first appearance in Court of Appeal following elevation to the highest judicial post in B.C.

"Nothing I can say," said Attorney-General R. L. Maitland, K.C., "will reflect the warmth of joy, satisfaction and pride I feel in this room today." The Attorney-General was the first of several in the crowded courtroom to extend congratulations.

Mr. Maitland voiced personal happiness over the new honor so richly deserved bestowed upon the new chief justice following his service in many fields of provincial life.

"It is not only a great honor for your lordship, but one to which your children will look back with pride," he said, noting the presence in court of Mrs. Gordon Sloan, Mrs. "Barney" Marshall, the Chief Justice's daughter, and David Sloan, his son.

He recalled the new appointee's career in B.C., saying it had been watched with the greatest approval by the public which today was expressing its satisfaction. He wished the Chief Justice good health and fair sailing.

PERSONAL PLEASURE

W. C. Moresby, K.C., as senior bencher, said the ceremony was a joy and pleasure to him. He recalled the fact he had presented Chief Justice Sloan to the bar on July 5, 1921, and had followed his career with deep interest. It was particularly pleasing to him, as a native son, to extend congratulations to another native son and "the worthy son of a worthy father." The appointment, Mr. Moresby said, was very popular, and the bar was satisfied the decisions to be reached by the Chief Justice would be animated by the same conscientious principles he had previously exhibited on the bench.

W. H. M. Haldane, for the Victoria bar, associated himself with the remarks of those preceding him.

"It is a very high honor, well earned and richly deserved," he said. Stuart Henderson, for himself and others with long experience before the bar, added his congratulations, noting the recipient of new honors was the youngest appointed Chief Justice of B.C. and the first native born.

The Chief Justice expressed his thanks for the welcome and spoke of his happy experience in association with three previous Chief Justices.

They had left a fine tradition which it was the court's duty to maintain, he said. He spoke in the plural, reminding the assembly the Chief Justice was but first among equals.

He paid tribute to Mr. Justice H. I. Bird, stating his elevation would add strength to the court with his previous experience in law generally and trial court work.

SPONTANEOUS TRIBUTE

The ceremony itself indicated the esteem in which Chief Justice Sloan is held by the profession. Shortness of notice had little effect on the turnout of barristers who crowded the courtroom and stood around the walls when extra rows of chairs were occupied.

The appointment was confirmed Tuesday night in a statement by Justice Minister St. Laurent, who also announced elevation of Mr. Justice Bird from the B.C. Supreme Court to the appellate division and of Judge A. M. Harper from Vancouver County Court to the Supreme Court of B.C. At the same time, Mr. Justice R. L. Kellock's appointment to the Supreme Court of Canada was announced.

Born in Nanaimo 46 years ago, the new Chief Justice is the son of the late Hon. William Sloan, Minister of Mines and Provincial Secretary in the Oliver government. He was educated in private schools in the province, and went overseas with the Canadian forces in the first Great War, later transferring to the Royal Flying Corps, where he received his wings as a pilot.

Following the war he returned to Victoria to study law with Elliott, Maclean and Shandley, and was admitted to the bar in 1921. A month later he joined the Faris firm in Vancouver.

At 35 he entered politics as Liberal candidate in Vancouver Centre, and was elected in 1933. Appointed Attorney-General, he conducted cases for the Crown in important actions, and appeared before the Supreme Court of Canada on numerous occasions. He was Crown Counsel in the noted murder charges against the George brothers, Indians, who were hanged for the murder of a provincial police constable some years ago.

ABLE ADVOCATE

As Attorney-General he prepared and presented a brief to the Bennett government seeking better terms for B.C. The brief resulted in directing an additional $750,000 annually from the Dominion Treasury to this province.

His appointment to the Court of Appeal in 1937 has been attended by extensive work as a commissioner on affairs of public import. His recommendations following an inquiry on Sooke traps and purse seines off the Fraser River were accepted by the Dominion government. His inquiry and recommendations in respect to the Workmen's Compensation Act resulted in modernization of the act and regulation which brought increased benefits to workmen and dependents.

At a later date he was, at the request of loggers and companies, made permanent chairman of disputes in the logging industry. The Chief Justice is now conducting an inquiry into the forestry situation of B.C. which will extend into next year.

A member of an old B.C. family, his grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Glaholm, was the first white woman born in Nanaimo in the middle of the last century.

His home is York Place, where he resides with Mrs. Sloan and his son David, a law student. With them at present are Mrs. Sherwood B. Marshall, his daughter, and her son, Lt. Marshall is serving overseas with the Canadian Navy.

Maj. Smythe Repeats Charges, Giving Facts, Regiments

TORONTO (CP)—Maj. Connel Smythe of Toronto, who returned recently to Canada to recuperate from wounds suffered in France, reiterated Tuesday night his charges that Canadian reinforcements in France were untrained. His original charges were made in a statement issued Sept. 19.

Maj. Smythe's statement follows:

"To suggest there are political motives in my statement is untrue. My statement of Sept. 19 is correct.

"To make up the pool of reinforcements prior to and after D-Day required for the infantry thousands of men were needed. These were practically all obtained from two sources:

"(1) Large numbers of young lads just overseas who a few months ago were civilians, and

"(2) Thousands of men from other arms such as the artillery, armored corps, etc., with varying lengths of service.

"Anyone anywhere in Canada checking the casualty lists and noting dates of enlistment can prove for themselves the truth of item 1. Col. Ralston (Defence Minister), by releasing the figures showing the numbers of other arms transferred to the infantry in the last few months, will prove it.

"The officers who stated to me that the reinforcements were untrained were all of a company commander level or lower—the officers who actually lead the men into battle. They came from the following battalions:

"North Nova Scotia, 3rd Division; North Shore Regiment, N.B., 3rd Division; Regiment of Maisonneuve, Que., 2nd Division; Regiment de Chaudiere, Que., 3rd Division; Royal Regiment of Canada, Ontario, 3rd Division; Queen's Own Rifles, Ont., 3rd Division; Essex Scottish, Ont., 2nd Division; Royal Winnipeg Rifles, Manitoba, 3rd Division; South Saskatchewan Rifles, Sask., 2nd Division; Calgary Highlanders, Alberta, 2nd Division, and the Canadian Scottish, B.C., 3rd Division."

Al Smith, the 'Happy Warrior', Contender for Presidency, Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Former Governor Alfred E. Smith died at 6:20 a.m. today at Rockefeller Institute Hospital.

Mr. Smith, Governor of New York State four times and Democratic candidate for the Presidency of the United States in 1928, was 70.

Last Aug. 10 he entered St. Vincent Hospital suffering heat exhaustion. He became a patient at the Rockefeller Institute Hospital Sept. 23.

One of the most colorful figures in the U.S. political scene, Mr. Smith had been in ill-health since his wife, Catherine Dunn Smith, died last May. He had not taken an active part in politics during the last few years.

Alfred Emmanuel Smith, one-time close friend of President Roosevelt, "took a walk" from the Democratic Party in 1936 and supported Republican nominee Alfred M. Landon.

During the 1940 campaign he again opposed the New Deal and stumped for Wendell L. Willkie, Republican standard-bearer.

He was defeated for the Presidency in 1928 by Herbert Hoover. Although he carried only eight states, he received 41.2 per cent of the total vote.

SHARP CAMPAIGN

When Mr. Smith reached the apex of his political climb in 1928 he faced four personal issues—he was a devout Roman Catholic, a member of Tammany Hall, an anti-prohibitionist and a product of the east side. The campaign that year was one of the bitterest ever fought, largely because of the unspoken words that accompanied it.

The "Happy Warrior"—a nickname given Alfred Smith by Franklin D. Roosevelt when he nominated Smith at the 1928 Democratic National Convention—was born under the Brooklyn Bridge on Manhattan's East Side, Dec. 30, 1873.

His formal education ended when at 12 he was forced by the death of his father to contribute to the family purse, which at first was bolstered meagrely from the income of a basement candy shop run by his mother. At first Smith peddled newspapers, but in 1895, at 22, he stumbled into politics through appointment as a clerk and sub-poena server for the commissioner of jurors.

He soon caught the eye of Tom Foley, Tammany Hall leader. In 1903, at Foley's desire, Smith was

Commonwealth Air Meeting Planned As U.S. Coup Forecast

OTTAWA (CP)—Officials of British Commonwealth governments will meet in Montreal, beginning Oct. 23, to discuss the establishment of air routes between members of the Commonwealth, Prime Minister King said Tuesday night.

Mr. King said the officials will discuss operational and technical problems connected with the establishment of the air routes. Military air transport services operated during the war will be reviewed.

"It is expected there will be discussion of possible operations during the remainder of the war, as well as in the postwar period," Mr. King said. "Any recommendation made by the conference will be submitted to governments for their approval and decisions on matters of policy will not be made at these meetings."

The Commonwealth governments have intended for some time to hold conversations on aviation problems.

The Vancouver Sun said in a newspaper story Tuesday that "on the day after Germany is defeated Uncle Sam is fully prepared to launch the most imposing and most significant trade coup in the world's history."

"United States is the only na-nominated as assemblyman from his district and served 12 years in the lower house of the New York State Legislature.

Tammany ran him for governor in 1918, and he won, defeating Governor Charles S. Whitman. He suffered his first political defeat two years later, when Nathan L. Miller was elected to the governorship, but Smith came back in 1922 to beat Whitman.

LIKENED TO TEDDY

With a personality that appealed to the masses, Smith often was likened to Theodore Roosevelt, because of the aggressive manner in which he fought his political foes. Another quality that helped him was his ability to answer all questions put to him, and to coin epigrams which caught the public fancy.

He was a public figure known for his brown derby, cigar and ever-present smile. Even after his retirement from public life in 1928, when he turned the experiences of a lifetime of politics to business, Smith was in the public eye. The principal reason was his peculiar instinct for talking the language of the people. To thousands he was known as "Al." Some of his 100 personal letters received daily were simply addressed "Al, New York."

He leaves three sons: Alfred E., Arthur and Walter, and two daughters.

tion which will possess ample transport planes on the morrow of the fighting," the newspaper said in an article written by Roy Brown, editorial director.

Bermudan Asks Self-Government

HAMILTON, Bermuda (CP)—A political buzz-bomb was dropped into Bermuda's Legislative Council Tuesday when Hon. F. C. Gosling presented a draft reply to the Speech from the Throne suggesting Governor Lord Burghley take the lead in a movement to bring responsible government to the colony.

Councillors were taken completely aback by the move because, throughout Bermuda's long history, replies to the Throne Speech in the Upper Chamber have been purely formal. After an indecisive debate, the councillors merely reported progress.

The Governor in the Throne Speech had said he had no doubt Bermuda would be in the van of prosperous and progressive countries of the world in the future, but Gosling's proposed address in reply questioned whether progress could be made under the present constitution.

Gosling told the council the colony still was operating under a constitution which was supposed to be the same as that of Great Britain in 1684.

"We are irresponsibly ruled," he said. "Our government is a negation of responsible government. I do not wish to see us jump into responsible government, but rather we should move in that direction."

EDMONTON (CP)—Paul Abraham, 23-year-old Cherhill district halfbreed, Tuesday was sentenced to be hanged Dec. 20 for the murder of his wife last July 18. The six-man jury returned its verdict in the Alberta Supreme Court after deliberating 42 minutes.

Witnesses at the two-day trial testified Abraham clubbed his wife over the head with the stock of the gun, knocking her to the ground, then fired a bullet into her head. The shooting was done, witnesses said, after the couple had quarrelled.

Daily Sulfadiazine Stops Army Colds

NEW YORK (AP)—From 70 to 90 per cent of winter's common respiratory diseases have been prevented in more than 600,000 U.S. service men by use of a small daily dose of sulfadiazine.

This is the longest medical step yet made toward turning winter into summer, as to disease, reported to the American Public Health Association.

In the navy more than 600,000 men were given the sulfa preventive. In the Army Air Forces 50,000. In both groups large numbers of men were given nothing, to compare with and validate the sulfa results. In both groups the results were almost identical.

Scarlet fever and strep throat were reduced by 85 per cent. All other streptococcus infections were similarly reduced. Meningitis was wiped out in some camps and reduced to almost zero everywhere. Rheumatic fever and pneumonia dropped markedly.

Furthermore, the ability of the streptococcus disease to spread from one centre to another was virtually stopped.

Report Hungary Handed Preliminary Terms

LONDON (CP)—The Daily Sketch said today Hungary has received preliminary armistice terms from Britain, the United States, and Russia, through Baron Gabriel Apor, Hungarian minister to the Vatican.

The terms, the Sketch said, include withdrawal from all Czechoslovakian, Romanian and Yugoslavian territories occupied by Hungary since 1938; a declaration of war against Germany; and removal of Regent Nicholas Horthy and other top men in the Budapest government.

Frenchwomen to Vote

PARIS (AP)—Women in France will vote for the first time next Feb. 1. The cabinet Tuesday night set that date for the first regional elections, the national election being postponed until the return of approximately 2,000,000 prisoners from Germany.

The cabinet also announced the bread ration had been raised from 300 to 350 grams (about two-thirds of a pound) a person daily.

Majority Opposing Election This Year Continues to Drop

By Canadian Institute of Public Opinion

TORONTO—If the war is still on, more than half the voting population of Canada do not think a federal general election should be called this year—but the majority opposed has dwindled since last February.

In February, 1943, and again a year later, the Gallup Poll put this question to the electorate, through a carefully constructed miniature, or cross section: "Do you think the Mackenzie King government should call a general election this year?"

In its most recent survey the phrase "If the war is still on" was added to the question.

The trend, based on the three dates on which the polls were made, is shown below:

	Feb. 1943	Feb. 1944	Today
Yes	20%	24%	25%
No	64	57	55
Undecided	16	19	20
	100%	100%	100%

Speaking for the rank and file supporters of the three major political parties, the poll shows the following situation, provided the war is still going on:

A big majority of Liberals do not want a general election this year.

Supporters of the Progressive Conservative Party are more or less divided on the issue, with a slight tendency to disapprove an election.

Alone, among the three political parties are C.C.F. supporters, a majority of whom think the King government should go to the polls this year.

This situation is shown graphically in the following table:

	Liberals	Pro. Cons.	C.C.F.
Election	30%	44%	56%
No election	69	49	41
Undecided	11	17	3

Willkie Aide Plumps For Roosevelt

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Bartley Crum, attorney and an adviser for Wendell Willkie in 1940, said Tuesday he would vote for President Roosevelt because he feared that if Governor Thomas E. Dewey were elected he would be a "captive" President "unable to do anything with the isolationist and nationalistic bloc of Republican senators and the reactionary forces presently in control of the Republican Party."

"I am not leaving the Republican Party, and I don't intend to do so," Crum said.

appears to have gone through some change since February poll. At that time, the institute found that opinion was divided 50-50 for and against holding an election this year. Today, the largest group in Quebec (44 per cent of the voters) are opposed to an election, and only 38 per cent are in favor of one. Strongest sentiment in favor of a general election this year seems to be in western Canada.

Throughout the war, the institute has repeatedly found that a majority of the voters are opposed to holding an election in wartime, even though this majority, as the latest polls show, is declining. Prior to the plebiscite of April, 1942, it will be recalled, most Canadians did not want such a plebiscite held.

CHIEF JUSTICE SLOAN

NOT ONLY THE JUDICIARY AND THE legal profession of British Columbia in particular and the rest of Canada in general will welcome with warm approval and enthusiasm the elevation of Mr. Justice Sloan from his seat on the Court of Appeal bench to the high office of Chief Justice of the province's premier tribunal; the public as a whole will interpret the appointment as a fitting tribute to one of the country's youngest and ablest judges. To all Vancouver Islanders, of course, as well as to all British Columbians, the signal honor which has come to one comparatively early in life is of special interest. For none need apologize if a neighborhood sense of pride manifests itself in the advancement of His Lordship—because he is not only the first native son of this province ever to attain this distinguished position in the realm of jurisprudence, but also the youngest.

Although still well on the right side of 50, the new Chief Justice will go to his high post with a wealth of experience such as few jurists have been able to acquire in so short a time, and with a judgment which has ripened through the discharge of those numerous extraneous tasks committed to him in recent years. As a Royal Commissioner in an inquiry into the salmon fishing industry, the operations of the Workmen's Compensation Act, and currently in respect of British Columbia's forestry conditions—in all these vitally important and intricate matters His Lordship has displayed an almost uncanny ability to steer testimony and argument along the shortest route to fact. His findings, moreover, invariably have produced model directives.

In possession of all the basic attributes that the high office requires, and fully endowed with those human qualities so essential to the fearless and impartial administration of justice in all its ramified implications, the new Chief Justice of the province's Court of Appeal could not assume the central seat among his brother justices under happier auspices. To the many congratulations he will receive the Times adds its own.

DANGEROUS LETHARGY

CORRESPONDENT HENRY GORRELL of the United Press, now with the Allied forces in Germany, describes his surprise at coming through the first days in enemy home territory without being killed or wounded by guerrillas. His feeling is natural, but his good fortune is scarcely surprising. The German civilian who complacently surrendered his liberty to the Nazi Party is not likely to rise up angrily in the Nazis' defence. He, the middle-aged German beyond military age, happily allowed himself to be hypnotized by Hitler's oratory, even though later the Gestapo had to be dispatched to keep him in his trance.

Now, as one burgher told Mr. Gorrell, the Gestapo is gone and the Germans are not afraid. They are glad the war is almost over. They want peace and quiet. Stares, silence and lethargy have greeted most Allied troops in Germany thus far. Lethargy will probably remain after the fighting is over. It is the lethargy of a people who love to be led, and who accepted Hitler as the alternative to the bothersome chore of governing themselves. It is a lethargy that will be something to contend with in rebuilding Germany under a rational form of democratic government.

AN IMPENDING ELECTION

BRITAIN'S GENERAL ELECTION IS impending rather than imminent. This is how the Prime Minister put it in the House of Commons yesterday. The public is left to read what it will into this typical Churchillian phrasing. It may mean anything or nothing. The next appeal to the people would still be pending even if the head of the government had said it would not be held until the capitulation of Germany. But until Corporal Schliegruber and his gang are out of harm's way it is scarcely likely Mr. Churchill will put himself in an election mood.

Naturally all three of Britain's political bodies are busy with their plans for the inevitable contest. Indications are fairly clear that party lines will be drawn as they were after the famous Carlton Club meeting in 1922; that was the end of the coalition administration over which Mr. Lloyd George had presided for six years—which, incidentally, easily survived the "khaki" election of 1918. Since then British Liberalism has remained in eclipse as interpreted in purely partisan terms. While Labor has twice held office, and is still an important factor in the House of Commons, political observers are inclined to believe that the party of which Sir Archibald Sinclair—Secretary of State for Air in the Churchill ministry—is the head is attracting much support from that large element in the country which is neither Conservative nor Socialist. He would nevertheless be a brave prophet who tried to draw up the division of voting strength in the next House of Commons.

By the middle of next month the present Parliament will have completed its ninth year. The government endorsed on Nov. 15, 1935, has had three Prime Ministers—Mr. Baldwin, from 1935 to 1937; Mr. Chamberlain, from 1937 until May 10, 1940; and Mr. Churchill for the last four years and five months. Latest reports suggest that something like 200 of the sitting members do not intend to seek re-election, while it can be taken for granted that those who are remembered for their slavish support of the appeasing ministry will have to do some tall talking to win sufficient votes to send them back to Westminster. And if the Conservative Party procedure follows its traditional custom, those stalwarts who "refused" the whip and helped to reduce the government's majority on that fatal May day of 1940, may fail to get the blessing of the hierarchy to enable them to run.

How those Labor members who have rendered such yeoman service in Mr. Churchill's coalition ministry will react to the demand that their party appeal to the people as an independent political unit is not clear. It is nevertheless certain that its representation in the next House, if not sufficient to form a government, may well be the official opposition. For even though the Conservative Party elected 387 followers in the general election of 1935 and the Labor Party only 154, the grand total of votes polled by the former was 10,496,300 against the latter's 8,325,491. To hold a seat on a minority vote, of course, is neither new nor novel under the old British electoral system—as in this country. The comparison of 1935 may nevertheless give some indication of what may happen at the "impending" contest of which Mr. Churchill spoke yesterday.

Whether the Liberals' acquisition of Sir William Beveridge as a supporter—he is a candidate in an "imminent" byelection—will have any influence on the party's fortunes at the polls is problematical. The government's "White Paper" now under consideration seems to be a fairly good copy of the famous "Beveridge Plan." The next contest, in any case, will be an interesting one—with millions of men and women of 30 years of age who have not voted in a general election using their franchise for the first time.

THE 'HAPPY WARRIOR' PASSES

FEW MEN IN THE PUBLIC LIFE OF the United States have possessed so colorful a personality as Alfred E. Smith, four times governor of the State of New York, and unsuccessful Democratic candidate for the presidency in 1928, who died early this morning in his 71st year. Although he was a close friend of President Roosevelt—who nicknamed him the "Happy Warrior" at the nominating convention 16 years ago—Mr. Smith campaigned for Republican nominee Alfred M. Landon in 1936 and Wendell L. Willkie in 1940, the more effectively to register his opposition to many aspects of the administration's New Deal.

In the last year or so the "Happy Warrior" had little to do with politics or public affairs; he was taking things easily and had adopted several rules for the safeguarding of his health. But he observed them without losing interest in the passing scene. From the shock which the death of his wife—to whom he was devoted—caused him last May, however, he never recovered. Those thousands of New Yorkers who saw him assisted from his car to St. Patrick's Cathedral for the funeral service were stunned by the appearance of the man whose ever-present smile, the ubiquitous cigar, and brown Derby always suggested the buoyant spirit of perpetual youth.

Regardless of their antipathy to some of the beliefs to which he clung, not even his bitterest critics and opponents could find any flaw in Mr. Smith's public integrity or personal honor. From the days of his humble surroundings on the East Side to the state of affluence which his native ability and perseverance had endowed him he kept his feet on the ground and won the respect of all men.

STILL A JOB TO DO

PERSONS WHO EXPECT THERE WILL be plenty of everything just as soon as the war is over and those who think we can afford to scrap war surpluses should read the first report submitted by the Hon. Herbert H. Lehman, director of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, to its recent meeting in Montreal.

According to this report, about the only commodities which UNRRA has been able thus far to obtain in ample quantities are wheat and rye. There are shortages, ranging from the acute to the dire, in woollen clothing, cotton cloth, knit goods and yarn, shoes, fats, and oils for soap, milk, fish, cheese, eggs and sugar. No milk has been offered yet by any of the participating 44 nations. UNRRA, fearing it will be able to deliver no clothing until some time next year, in the meantime is planning an old-clothes drive on this continent. The brightest hope, says Mr. Lehman, is in army salvage woollens. Negotiations are being conducted with Canada for the acquisition of this country's army salvage garments. Every needed warm garment that is not obtained will mean misery of cold, suffering and illness for some European this winter.

Mr. Lehman's report should help to dispel the illusion that UNRRA is automatically able to throw into Europe the supplies needed to sustain the people there until they get their production going again. It makes clear that we on this continent shall still have a job to do and sacrifices to make in order to provide for our suffering comrades-in-arms not a standard of living, but a standard of mere existence.

Man's attitude toward his world: Loving the pretty butterflies, but resenting the nasty "worms" that produce them.

It is well that man hides his sins. If everybody knew the rottenness of everybody else, all might lose heart and quit trying.

BERLIN MEMORIES

A MADRID TRAVELER says Allied aviators laid an egg on Berlin's Hotel Adlon. This is quite an achievement because although hits have been scored on the Reichstag, the old and new chancelleries, possibly the Brandenburg Gate and the lairs of Goering and Goebbels, the Adlon has stood unshattered.

The news puts Royce Brier of the San Francisco Chronicle in a reminiscent mood. He recalls the Adlon as being "about as cozy as a mint." It is, he says, a pile of gray stone, and inside drips with rococo, with a lot of cubbyholes between lobby, cafes and bar, any one of them fit for a political assassination. The place was overrun with armies of concierges and porters dolled up in bright uniforms with epaulets. They were all sour, and no Pharaoh of Egypt ever had more of the weight of the world on his shoulders, or commanded more obsequence than these factotums. It was as though here were 30 or 40 bosons, and each had a job he wouldn't trade for Napoleon's.

If you had passed the Adlon about 1937 you might have seen a mob in front. Half the Krauts in Unter den Linden were there, but Hitler wasn't making a speech. This was an automobile they were looking at, and no Volkswagen. This was an American jalopy. If you paused a moment you might discover it was the jalopy of Mrs. Doris Duke Cromwell, who emerged from the Adlon with maids, chauffeurs, footmen and so forth to be whisked away wherever she was whisking that day.

That's just to show you the kind of a joint the Adlon is. Nobody of consequence ever stayed anywhere else in Berlin, and in truth, nobody stayed there very long if he could help it.

INDEED, that was the place if you had the mazuma, or wanted to get the weird atmosphere of the Germany of those years.

In London it was the Savoy or Claridge's, in Rome the De Russie or the Grande (Harlow was at the Grande that year, and vowed them even more effectively than Doris' car). In Paris, Vienna, Budapest, you could put up at several elegant joints and keep your high polish. But in Berlin you took the Adlon or joined the Neanderthals. The Central was hopelessly middle-class, and a little rowdy because it had the Winter Garden attached. Alas, both are now flat, and serves them right for catering to such mediocre people. The Kaiserhof was the Nazi cave. The party took it over long before Hitler came to power, and you practically needed a card to walk past it.

So you could learn a lot about the Nazis at the Kaiserhof, but you couldn't get in, and the next best spot was the Adlon.

All the second-string diplomats of Europe, not exactly spies but kind of spying, were always flitting in and out of the place. Most of them were confined to talking to newspapermen or to each other. They were trying to find out what the Germans were up to. They had a faint idea, or their governments did, that it was ominous, but they never got it from the horse's mouth. Not one of them ever was admitted to the chancellery to step right up and say, "Look, 'ere, Hitler, what the h—'s coming off?"

No, they had to be satisfied with scurrying around the Adlon, pumping and being pumped by the newspapermen, and catching the spirit of Nazi Germany. Still, anybody who couldn't catch it by 1937 was pretty dumb.

BY THEN they would tell you about the spirit of Nazi Germany quite freely, right in the bar or the breakfast cafe of the Adlon they would tell you. You didn't have to be important or adroit to get the dope, and your informant didn't have to be a gauleiter with a snifter and his guard down. It wasn't a secret at all.

You might start out politely mentioning the coronation in England, or that Romanians couldn't seem to build houses that a slight earthquake wouldn't collapse. Either one, and several less suggestive were good for the retort that Europe was in very bad shape, very, very. It went on from there, moving quickly through the Versailles inquiry to more important matters. The wrong people had the riches. There was enough for everybody, but the wrong people glommed everything, and moreover, they were weary and clinging hopelessly to outmoded political forms. Parliaments?—tsk, tsk, haven't you heard about parliaments? The old Europe was dying, the young Europe was already born, but not everyone perceived it yet. German vigor to laugh at coronations, German technicians to make Romanian houses stand up, they loomed in the great new dawn of mankind. How they ached to help at the birth, how they hungered to open your eyes as you paused blinded on the threshold of an illimitable experience.

Don't cry. Let the newspapermen cry. Let Louis Lochner and William Shirer and the rest of them cry. They had to listen to it for seven years. Let the second-string diplomats cry, if they weren't destroyed in Rotterdam or Warsaw or Belgrade, or if they aren't begging alms in Vienna or Prague or Athens.

There's one thing you never heard in all this break-of-dawn pining, though, and that was that the enemies of the Germans would one day lay a six-ton egg on the Adlon. That was the only secret they ever had around there.

Europe will feed itself with the first harvest after peace comes, but it will keep us busy a long time making mechanical equipment.

To be safe, good manners require two people of a kind—one to be considerate, and one who won't think it weakness and take advantage of it.

Today's WAR NEWS Analysis

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press War Analyst
China's fiery rebuttal of Prime Minister Churchill's recent assertion that she had received lavish military aid from the U.S. is understandable, although the term "lavish" is relative and one could make out a fair case for both sides.

The cold truth is that, despite the fine contribution of the U.S., China hasn't enough military material of any sort.
The spokesman for the Chinese Military Council in Chungking didn't exaggerate when he declared that "determination has to be their substitute for fire-power, and in the defence of their provinces they have willingly accepted staggering losses."

The Chinese aren't afraid to die. But you can't win wars simply by dying.

That was the situation when I was in Chungking last year. It has been the situation ever since. And it will remain the situation until the Allies are able to invade China in a big way and open up an adequate supply route.

Establishment of an adequate supply route into China will require a major operation. It might mean an Allied amphibious invasion of the south coast—a great undertaking. It might be achieved by invading the Malay Peninsula from the Indian Ocean and driving across Siam and French Indo-China into China proper.

The Japanese of course are fully aware of the likelihood of some such moves. Their current invasion of Fukien province on China's southeastern coast, and their attempt to open up the Hankow-Kanton railway through south central China, are recognition of the position.

WAR PATTERN

From Time Magazine

Time says that the pattern of the campaign in France was taken from the U.S. Civil War—"in analogy, Eisenhower was Gen. Grant in the decisive days of late March and early April, 1865. Patton was his obstreperous, wide-sweeping General Phil Sheridan. In essence the problem was the same: bash the enemy frontally, give him no resting moment, get in on his flank, starve him of supplies, make him retreat.

HOW TO CONSERVE FUEL

SIX IMPORTANT RULES

1. Avoid overheating. Do not wait until house is thoroughly warm before checking fire.
2. Keep the ash pit clean.
3. Replace warped or burned-out grates.
4. Keep a fair depth of ashes above the grates. The fire will hold better and will be more readily controlled.
5. Learn how to control the heat with the draft doors and dampers in flues.
6. When burning soft coal, furnace should be cleaned every week; for hard coal, every two weeks.

(The foregoing points apply in firing your furnace with every type of coal.)

HERE is a saving that every householder can easily make. With coal in the bin, don't dig in and pile the furnace high. Remember—every shovelful brings the day closer when more coal will have to be ordered. Save coal—it is essential war material. Stretch each ton to the limit—Save One Shovelful out of every Five—to release much-needed fuel for war purposes, and so back up the efforts of Canada's fighting sons.

Explains Health Units To Institute Delegates

"Local health service units now service 65 per cent of British Columbia's population," said Dr. J. M. Hershey, senior director of health units, when he addressed members of the South Vancouver Island District Women's Institutes in conference at the S.O.E. Hall Tuesday.

Dr. Hershey explained the province is responsible for the health of the people in sanitation, diseases, pre-school-age child, school child, and care of foods such as pasteurization of milk.

"The federal government," he said, "controls the country as a whole with foods, narcotics and drugs. The health units do not force themselves upon the communities but wait until they are asked for advice, and then without ordering it to be done, help the people in many districts and show them how to control such things as sanitation."

"In the outlying places and smaller communities it may not be possible for them to have a full-time health officer, so one health officer and staff may serve several communities, helping to cut down expenses in each, and yet giving them the service they need."

"Part of the money set aside by the government is for specialized divisions, such as the control of T.B. and venereal diseases, X-ray services and laboratory service. Money voted is available to the communities participating in the service and has to be handled by 'competent people,' said Dr. Hershey.

Airmen to Benefit From Saturday Tag

"Your Giving Keeps Them Living" is the slogan applied to parcels for prisoners of war which will be aided by part proceeds of the tag day to be held Saturday by the Women's Auxiliary to the Air Services and the Junior Group Auxiliary to the Air Services.

It is pointed out that it takes 25 dimes to pack one parcel.

Other efforts of the auxiliaries which will be helped through buying a tag Saturday are: cigarettes for airmen overseas; Christmas parcels for isolated stations; comforts for the convalescent hospital at Colwood; hospital visiting; donations to the R.C.A.F.; Plastic Surgery Hospital in England; craftsmen's tools for Colwood Hospital; comforts for W.D.s at Kildonan House; comforts for the common room of W.D.s at Patricia Bay.

Convening the tag day are Mrs. W. E. Poupore, president of the senior auxiliary; Mrs. A. L. Mills and Mrs. R. Armstrong.

Another attraction Saturday will be the Victoria Schools Band, affiliated with the Air Cadets, playing at Yates and Douglas from 10.30 until noon. Headquarters will be at 640 Fort Street.

Mrs. Curtis Sampson, War Services convener, reported 89 articles, valued at $107.40, sent to Municipal Chapter. Thirty personal property bags were forwarded and 11 nursery bags, for shipment overseas, Mrs. Sampson handled by 'competent people,' said Dr. Hershey.

Miss Sara Spencer, chairman of the Women's Voluntary Services, spoke on the service, explaining to the members that it did not offer training, but was a registration and placement bureau for all those who could and wanted to do voluntary work. She asked as many members as would like to join this service.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Mrs. W. P. Rankin, president, gave her report of the South Vancouver Island District Board, in which she thanked the members for their co-operation during the year.

She spoke on one of the most outstanding achievements of the year which the institutes were able to have passed. That was the amendment to the school act. "The Craigflower Institute brought it up to the attention of the board," said Mrs. Rankin. "It was the fact that a number of children taken in foster homes from the Children's Aid Society had been evicted from school as they were living in unorganized school district. This by-law was brought to bear upon the Minister of Education and deputy minister, who in turn took it up with the cabinet. The amendment affected over 1,000 children in the province."

Mrs. W. E. Rayfuse of the National Housing Registry dealt with sugar rationing.

Mrs. G. Orr, vice-president, was in the chair during the afternoon.

CHEKNIANSKY BROTHERS GIVE FINE CONCERT

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON
Hiker Attractions opened their 1944-45 series of concerts Tuesday night at the Royal Victoria Theatre with the joint piano-cello recital of January and Mischel Cherniavsky.

They are no strangers here, and Victoria loves them well, judging by the ovations they received from the large audience.

In the opening number, variations on a theme from Mozart's "Magic Flute," arranged for piano and cello by Beethoven, their individual artistry blended into a delicate and disciplined performance, clean-cut and balanced.

Jan Cherniavsky followed with a group of Bach arrangements for the piano, and in particular the Bach-Busoni "Chaconne" will long be remembered for the intensely virtuosic treatment of some passages, which gave place to a deep and thoughtful tenderness at others.

AMONG THE GUESTS

The Bach Suite for cello in C

major, unsupported by piano accompaniment, displayed the matchless tonal beauty and purity of intonation, which in itself sets Mischel Cherniavsky among the truly great ones of music. Inimitable in style, injecting a sparkling personality into his playing, the cellist enchanted his audience in the brilliant Sammartini "Sonata" and in the poetic "Cantabile" of Caesar Cui and the entrancing rhythm of Sarasate's "La Zapeleado." He was accompanied throughout by his brother.

Jan Cherniavsky's second group consisted entirely of Chopin. First the lovely, moody Nocturne in D flat major, followed by four of the more passionate Etudes; Mr. Cherniavsky's incredible virtuosity and robust style brought an urgent excitement to these, particularly in the well-known "Revolutionary" with its reminder of Warsaw and the composer's despairing rage when he heard of the 19th century rape of the city.

The pianist added as encores one of the Chopin Mazurkas and a Rubinstein "Prelude."

The brothers combined their artistry once more for the final sparkling performance of Chopin's "Polonaise Brillante." The encores were a Bocherini "Minuet" and "Papillons" by Popper.

FRANKNESS OFTEN OVERDONE

Dear Miss Dix: Why is it that I just can't hit it off with a group of women? I am a matron 30 odd, have had a good education, have been a successful business woman as well as a home-maker. I can sit in with 50 men and pass orders on to them, have their admiration and respect and be treated as a pal or as a mother, but put me with five strange women and I can't even thaw them out. I am simply not liked by women, yet I want women friends. But, no matter how hard I try, no go. I don't go over. Maybe it is because I am too darn frank. I tell them exactly what I think. E.F.U.

FRANKNESS MAY HURT

Answer: You have diagnosed your trouble yourself when you say you think that the reason you are not popular with women is because you are "too darn frank," and that you tell them exactly what you think of them.

No person who does that is ever popular with either sex, because men are just as allergic to the truth about themselves as women are.

A mistake that practically all people make who pride themselves upon always speaking the truth and being perfectly frank is that they tell so many unnecessary truths that hurt, and say so many unkind things that would be far better left unsaid. A young girl said to me not long ago that she felt like a hypocrite if she kept silent when she differed with anyone, or failed to express her opinion, but she was wrong in that. You don't have to argue with people unless a moral issue is involved.

I think that if you would only temper the truth to the occasion in dealing with women and say pleasant things to them when you can honestly do so, and be chary of criticizing them, and if you will show them that you like them and want them to like you, you will have no trouble in making women friends.

Dinitro-cresol sprays alleviate farm labor shortage by destroying a large number of blossoms and thus reducing the number of apples that would have to be picked off later in hand thinning.

Simple Additions Multiply the Servings

TRUE-FLAVORED, tempting, easy-to-prepare, Jell-O and Jell-O Puddings are not always readily available at your grocer's these days. So you'll appreciate such recipes as these, that add simple ingredients to produce more servings per package... and deliciously!

APPLE-WHIP FLOATING ISLAND

1 package Jell-O Vanilla Pudding
2½ cups milk
Apple Whip (See below).

Prepare Jell-O Pudding with milk, as directed on package. Cool. Turn into dessert bowl; chill. At serving time, top with spoonfuls of Apple Whip. Six servings.
Apple Whip: Beat 1 egg white with pinch of salt, until stiff. Gradually beat in 2 table-spoons sugar. Grate 1 medium apple; mix with 3 table-spoons sugar, add to egg-white mixture and whip stiff.

ORIENTAL COMPOTE

1 package Orange Jell-O
2 cups hot liquid (peach juice with water)
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup cold cooked rice
1 cup peach slices (canned or preserved)

Dissolve Jell-O in hot liquid. Add salt. Chill. When slightly thickened, fold in rice. Pour half of mixture into dessert glasses, to one-third fill. Add a layer of peaches. Cover with remaining Jell-O. Chill. Six or eight servings.

If your grocer is temporarily out of Jell-O or Jell-O Puddings, please don't blame him. He's doing the best he can, to make his limited supplies go 'round.

Free Enterprise IS IN THEIR BLOOD

SINCE the beginning of Canada's history, independent trappers, operating on their own initiative and responsibility, have been the basis of Canada's great fur industry.

Rejecting an ordered way of living, trappers have adventured far beyond the boundaries of civilization in their quest for furs. Some have made fortunes. Some have not. But each has lived the life he wished to live... has treasured his right to fulfil a personal ambition. This is free enterprise in action.

This Bank, in its lifetime of over a century, has been a support of Canada's fur industry... has been attuned to the independence and the self-reliance of the men who built it.

Keep Canada Strong and Free!

Why We Offer You THIS OPPORTUNITY

28 years ago, a young Canadian druggist who believed that actual use of a good product offered the most convincing proof of its merits, suggested to United Drug Company, the parent house of Rexall Drug Stores that instead of advertising, inaugurate the Rexall 1 Cent Sale. Since that time, this unusual sale has been offered twice a year to REXALL Stores throughout Canada.

Through this sale, money that would otherwise go into press and radio advertising is used to your direct advantage. For the price of one, plus one cent, you receive two regular full size packages of high quality REXALL merchandise. In other words — YOU save money — WE gain friends.

(We reserve the right to limit the quantities purchased by any customer.)
All prices listed in this advertisement are based on the Manufacturer's suggested full retail price.

Toastmasters' Club Presents Honor Roll

The unveiling of an honor roll, listing 17 members now serving with the armed forces overseas, highlighted the first meeting of the Victoria Toastmasters' Club in the Y.M.C.A. Tuesday evening. Col. H. B. deSells gave an address when the honor roll was unveiled and paid special tribute to the late David Bird, R.C.A.F., a past member who was killed on active service. Frank Paulding, secretary of the Y.M.C.A., presented a toast to the members now serving.

Those whose names are on the roll include Ian Angus, Gilbert Fraser, Fred Gray, Ronald J. McRae, John R. H. Pearson, Vernon

A. Ridgway, Alfred E. Slocomb, Gordon C. Walsh, Thomas C. Wilson, David Bird, Jack Fraser, William J. Gibson, Walter F. Parker, Edward J. Reed, Kenneth Ross, Douglas Smith and Harry J. Williams.

Barrie Gault was elected president of the club. Other officers elected were John Scott, vice-president; E. Whyte, secretary-treasurer; W. P. Holmes, sergeant-at-arms; H. B. Howard, deputy district governor; Cecil May, membership chairman, and Frank Paulding, educational chairman.

LONDON (CP)—Maj. Gwilym Lloyd George, Minister of Fuel, told House of Commons Tuesday a critical winter lay ahead because of a 25 per cent increase in "voluntary absenteeism" among coal miners.

RUBENS REPAIRED PAINTINGS DAMAGED ON WAY TO SPAIN

In the early spring of the year 1603, a young man left northern Italy, bound for Madrid, Spain. If you had been alive then, and had asked someone about this young man, the reply might have been:

"He is the court painter in the palace of the duke of Mantua. We call him, 'the Fleming,' because he was born in Flanders. His name is Peter Paul Rubens, and he studied art in Antwerp before coming to Italy."

"Now he is on his way to take presents from the duke to the king of Spain. The presents include a number of valuable paintings."

Rubens was 26 years old at that time. It was an honor to serve as ambassador for the duke of Mantua, and he did his best to deserve it, but during the long, tiresome journey, the rain kept falling and falling. Twenty days were rainy!

With such ill fortune, it is little wonder that the paintings were damaged. Two of them were ruined altogether.

What could the young man do? He could use a brush! With fine skill, he retouched the damaged pictures, and painted new ones to replace the two which had been ruined. He said nothing about this when he reached his journey's end, and the Spanish king, Philip III, was delighted by all the paintings, little dreaming what the young artist had done to them.

While in Madrid, Rubens painted portraits of several Spanish nobles. Then he returned to Italy. News of his mother's serious illness caused him to make a trip to Antwerp. His mother died before he reached her bedside, but he decided to stay in Antwerp.

During the 32 years which followed, he made Antwerp his headquarters, but from time to time he visited foreign countries. He took part in signing a peace treaty in London, and while there painted the picture called "Peace and War," which Englishmen are proud to have in their National Gallery. He went to Paris and helped decorate a palace for the French queen.

A famous picture by Rubens is the "Descent from the Cross." All told, he took part in making more than 3,000 pictures, but many of these were painted in large measure by the pupils who gathered around him in Antwerp. One of his pupils was the famous Anthony Van Dyck.

He was first wounded in December, 1943, suffering shrapnel wounds in leg and thigh. Extent of his wounds sustained Sept. 18 last, are not immediately known. Formerly with the Canadian Scottish, Maj. Wheeler has a bullet wound in the jaw and shrapnel in the arms and hip. He was born in Victoria 32 years ago, worked for B.A. Paint Co. for some years and was a war worker at V.M.D. before enlistment. He has been overseas two years.

Lt.-Cmdr. D. H. Fairney, R.C. N.V.R., of Victoria and Toronto, engineer officer of H.M.C.S. Kootenay, has returned to Canada on leave. Williams joined the navy in July, 1941, and before being assigned to the Waskesiu, served for 18 months on H.M.C.S. Miramichi. Waskesiu, product of Yarrows Ltd., sank an enemy submarine on her maiden voyage overseas and took part in D-Day operations, screening invasion craft onto Normandy beaches.

Fus. R. P. (Bob) Jennings, now serving in France, in a letter to his mother, Mrs. G. F. W. Jennings, 1596 Clive Drive, has included a sample of British propaganda leaflets dropped on the German forces. The leaflet, which is written in German, tells the Germans the Russian 3rd Baltic Army, under General Tachyniakowski, has reached German soil and is on the East Prussian border. On the back of the pamphlet under a bold head "Das Ende," a fuller account of Russian feats is given, painting a gloomy picture of the war for the Nazis. Bob has three brothers in the army, Bill, serving in England; Michael, in Italy; and Gordon, who is on the east coast.

Decisions Tuesday In Murder Appeals

Edward F. Barilla and Robert Harold Logan will learn next Tuesday whether or not sentences of the court, directing they be hanged at the end of this month and early in November respectively, are to be carried out. Judgment on their appeals from the death sentence will be delivered next week, according to a statement in the Court of Appeal Tuesday.

Announcement was made after the court had dismissed the appeals from conviction in the cases of Rex vs. Java and Rex vs. Serrao, two cases from Cariboo in which the accused were convicted respectively of committing an act of gross indecency and of operating a bawdy house. In the Java appeal, Gordon S. Wismer, K.C., succeeded in his plea for a reduction in sentence, the term being cut to six months from two years.

Judgment was reserved in the contested will case of Roman vs. Horton, which was completed during the day. Court continued today the appeal in the Ashford vs. Ness case.

French Diplomat To Speak Here

Lieut. Emmanuel d'Harcourt, second secretary at the Canadian Legation of the Provisional Government of the French Republic, will address a meeting of the Canadian Club Tuesday, Oct. 17.

Although he is only 30 years of age, Lieut. d'Harcourt has had a distinguished military career. As an officer in the reserve, he served in an armored unit in 1939-40, taking part in the campaigns of Belgium and Flanders. After being severely wounded, he was evacuated from Dunkerque to England in June, 1941, and as soon as he was discharged from hospital he joined the Fighting French.

He holds the Croix de la Liberation and is a member of the council of the Ordre de la Liberation. He was created a Chevalier de la Legion d'Honneur for gallantry, and holds the Croix de Guerre with two citations.

He began his career as a diplomat after being graduated from the School of Political Sciences at Paris and in law from the University of Paris. At the outbreak of war he was attached to the Legation at Belgrade, Yugoslavia. He arrived in Ottawa from Aleiers last July.

The subject of his address will be "Some Facts About France."

In hot, dry countries, people sometimes carry cucumbers to eat and quench their thirst, as they are approximately 96 per cent water.

spend about a month in the Calgary district.

The main purpose of his trip is to form an association of the Royal Danish Guards in this district. He is president of the Royal Danish Guards Union in the western hemisphere. There are three unions in the United States, two in South America, and it is hoped to have two in Canada.

Six Clubs In Soccer Loop—Nanaimo Plays

Six teams, including Nanaimo City, will compose the Victoria and District Football League this season. At a meeting of the executive last night President Charlie Lewis announced that entries had been received from Army, Navy, R.C.A.F., Victoria Machinery Depot and Victoria West, along with the one from the up-island eleven.

Despite the travel difficulties facing the local clubs going to Nanaimo, it was decided to accept the local city entry. The five local clubs declared their intention of making every effort to surmount the problem and fill their playing dates up-island. It was felt that the entry of Nanaimo in the league would create a great deal more spectator interest.

Owing to the fact that none of the Victoria teams were prepared to travel to Nanaimo the coming weekend, the opening match there was set back one week. Draw for Saturday's opening league encounter at the Athletic Park, starting at 3, will see the V.M.D. oppose the Navy.

Monday afternoon Victoria West will play its first game against either Nanaimo or the Navy. The question of a second division was discussed, and an effort to form a league will be made. The Toppers, formerly known as the Gorge Aces, are ready to play, and it is hoped that at least two more clubs will be formed. Games will be played on Sundays, and anyone interested in playing or entering a club is requested to get in touch with Charlie Lewis, 1134 Pandora Avenue, or by phoning G 2917.

PRIMEAU NAMED COACH

TORONTO (CP)—Joe Primeau, former star Toronto Maple Leaf centre in the National Hockey League, will coach St. Michael's College team in the Ontario Hockey Association junior A series this winter. It was announced last night. Since retiring from professional hockey, Primeau has coached both junior and senior teams in Toronto.

Smaller Golf Cups. Would Reduce Gift Putts

By SYD THOMAS

TORONTO (CP)—Duffers of the golf course are not going to be happy when they hear the suggestion that cups should be made smaller, with the avowed object of cutting down on the number of "gift" putts sunk by lucky players. Somebody is always taking the joy out of life.

The Vancouver Province golf expert, Bill Forst, advances the idea because he thinks it would help the careful player and cut down on the careless individual who bangs his shots any old way, just as he lands on the green in par strokes with a chance to loop a long putt into the present large-size cup.

The element of luck would be reduced and golf would become the science of skill itself, the western strategist adds. He really has something there, but it certainly would be painful for the garden variety of divot-digger, who would be lucky to break 100 then.

SPORTS HASH

Former Olympic sprint star Percy Williams of Vancouver says that track and field sports won't get anywhere in Canada until indoor tracks are built and some effort is made to interest the public more than the present-day version does. Something should be done to speed up the programs, too. If there were no betting at the race tracks, people wouldn't exert themselves overmuch to see the gee-gees run, and track events are needed off at a slower clip, if anything. "Not that we're suggesting betting, but a bit of glamour should be inserted some other way. . . . William Cook, executive director of the Y.M.C.A. Sports College, announces that membership in the college is free on application, without "cost or box tops." What we can't understand is how the boys can grow up big and strong if they don't eat their toasties and such. . . . Believing it is far, far better to give than to receive, F.O. Jake Milford of Kenora, Ont., spent his birthday carrying presents to Adolf, as bomb aimer with the R.C.A.F. Lion Squadron. . . . Jake, after a tour of England as journeyman hockeyist before the war, later played with Cleveland Barons of the International League.

FOOTBALL

The football locker room at the University of Pennsylvania could not produce a pair of shoes big enough for George Savitsky, 19-year-old former marine, so George sent home for the "scows" he wore as captain of the Camden, N.Y., High School team. The 250-pound tackler wears a 14½. The largest brogans unearthed at Penn were 13½.

DEFERRED PLAY

Bill Tobin, manager of the Chicago Black Hawks N.H.L. entry, assures the Chicago News that Doug Bentley of Delisle, Sask., will don his skates with the Hawks' machine this season. Andy (Toronto Star) Lytle quotes Tobin as saying: "Bentley is a bona-fide farmer, and it is officially recognized that you can't farm in Canada in the winter time. So it's okay for him to play in the farming-off season." Guess the new ruling of the N.H.L. governors doesn't apply here?

Four-Team Ice Loop Operates For Mainlanders

VANCOUVER—After several false starts in recent weeks, the Inter-city Hockey League was born Monday night in the receiving room of the St. Regis Hotel, with veteran Billy Finlay as president, and with the season scheduled to commence about the second Monday in November. Gone was the bitterness between rival factions of the now defunct Big Four loop and advocates of the new circuit as the good-sized group met in busy conclave.

Games will be played on Monday nights at the Forum, with a probability that a second evening will be arranged. Friday will be sought, with the site either here or in New Westminster.

After the election of Finlay as president, the attendees voted in Les Smith as vice-president and Jimmy Gunn as secretary-treasurer. The new organization will probably become a four-team league, applications have already been received from Models, Kirks and New Westminster. A fourth team has been promised and the make-up of the circuit will be decided at another meeting Thursday.

POOL PLAYERS

All players will be pooled with five "name" men allotted to each club by a special committee. Gate receipts will also be pooled, whether the matches are played at the Forum or New Westminster.

The new outfit appears to have more strength than the former Big Four, judging by the players represented last evening, plus the roster of New Westminster hockeyists available. This will probably be Vancouver's only hockey this season, unless the Air Force should book exhibition games. It is understood that the R.C.A.F. Seahawks will start workouts almost immediately, but the question of their opponents is still causing concern.

Leafs Want Bibeault

MONTREAL (CP)—An official of Montreal Canadiens said Tuesday night Toronto Maple Leafs had made "a big cash offer" for goalie Paul Bibeault, and that Canadiens had rejected the offer "because we want players, not cash."

Bibeault, property of Canadiens, played with the Leafs last season.

LAWN BOWLING

The Lake Hill Bowling Club will stage its final game of the season on Thanksgiving Day at 2. All local bowlers are invited to compete.

ST. LOUIS BROWNS WIN TITLE—Chet Laabs (centre) of the Browns comes in on his homer in the fourth inning of the New York Yankees-Browns game and is welcomed by Mike Kreevich (No. 12) who scored ahead of him. Laabs repeated the performance in the next inning, clinching the American League pennant for the Browns.

Pair of Home Runs Win for Baltimore

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—A jackpot homer by Stan Benjamin in the fifth inning followed by another round-tripper off Howard Moss' bat, gave Red Emmerich enough margin Tuesday night to pitch Baltimore Orioles to a 5 to 3 victory over Newark's Bears and tie the International League final-playoff series at three games apiece before a crowd of 4,670.

The winner of tonight's contest, slated for Baltimore, will meet Louisville in the junior world series.

Benjamin's homer came off Elmer Singleton, who blanked the Orioles in the second game of the series. There were two out at the time. Moss' shot was his fourth of the series.

351 Coho Caught At Cowichan Bay

Coho fishing at Cowichan Bay continues to hold up, according to a report received today from the Buena Vista Hotel. During the last three days a total of 351 coho have been reported in, along with 19 springs and a like number of jack springs.

Tuesday was one of the best days, when 172 coho were caught. Largest fish caught weighed 17½, 17 and 16 pounds.

Various boat houses at the bay report business holding up, with a large number of boats booked daily.

Bucktail flies and plugs continued to be the most popular lures, with the blue and white fly proving the favorite of the majority of anglers.

VICTORIA BADMINTON CLUB

The executive committee of the Victoria Badminton Club would like all its members who played last season jointly with the Willys Club, to be on the courts on Thursday or phone the secretary at E 1263 if they intend to play during the coming season. This is important, as the membership may have to be limited owing to the shortage of shuttles.

By PETE SALLAWAY

NIGHT BASEBALL has proven the salvation of baseball in many localities. Last year clubs in the Coast League experienced lean days as the arc lights were turned off owing to war regulations. With the return of night games this season all teams experienced a tremendous increase in attendance figures. Which makes it interesting to learn of a campaign against night baseball by prominent major league owners and players. Ed Barrow, big boss of the New York Yankees, has now acquired powerful allies in his heretofore one-man campaign against excessive night games.

THE ST. LOUIS CARDINALS, National League champions, currently engaged in the world series battle with the Browns, finished the season sick and fed up with the arcs. The National League winners appeared in 32 nocturnal engagements at home, 19 in a row following the annual all-star game. Their stand gives you an idea of just how the Washington Senators feel about the after-dark business. All of Washington's home games, outside of Sundays and holidays, were played in artificial light after May 10—a total of 43. Marty Marion, rated the best shortstop in baseball, has informed owner Sam Breadon that he will have to find something else to do if the Cards play as many night games next season.

MARION, who is not strong, believes bouncing beneath the bulbs has affected his health. With his normal existence disrupted he seriously considered retiring to his South Carolina farm or entering the clothing business. Walker Cooper, big catcher of the Cards, has an odd room for disliking the lights. He is the father of a baby who will not eat breakfast unless her dad is present. So no matter at what hour the last man was retired the night before, Cooper has to be up bright and early. There is nothing wrong with the catcher's health but he's weary of the hours.

JOHNNY HOPP, enjoying his greatest season in the outfield for the Cards, had to ask for time out toward the end of the season because of indigestion, attributed to the irregular hours. A veteran St. Louis sports writer requests another assignment in the event that night baseball is played in 1945 as great an extent as it was this season. Eating at all hours, not knowing when to eat, players writers and fans have become sandwich men and night hawks with moonlight ball. Managers lose control of their players. Mass madra production is an unhealthy state of affairs. At endence shows that given enough light, night baseball will put itself out. Larry MacPhail, who introduced night ball to the majors, was right. The novelty must not be permitted to wear off.

ALTHOUGH Victoria Rugby Union officials are having their difficulties organizing a senior league they are losing no time getting another Crimson Tide squad together to defend the historic McKechnie Cup, emblematic of the British Columbia championship. Victorians will likely see the Tide in action for the first time in a holiday match here Nov. 11. Officials of the B.C. Union requested the Tide to travel to Vancouver Oct. 28 to play Varsity at the annual home coming but, owing to the short notice, Vancouver Reps will be asked to take that date. Varsity appears a strong threat for the provincial crown this season but Coach Campbell Forbes has high hopes of developing a first-class machine to represent this city.

Les Patrick Opens Annual Ice School

WINNIPEG (CP)—Lester Patrick, manager of the New York Rangers, arrived here Tuesday to open his 11th annual hockey school at the Amphitheatre Rink. He was accompanied by coach Frank Boucher.

Patrick said in an interview that approximately 25 players would attend the school, which continues until the regular Rangers report Oct. 11.

He refused comment on prospects for the forthcoming N.H.L. season.

PHIL PALMER WINS

BROOKLYN (AP)—Morris Reif, 147, Brooklyn, knocked out Pat Dierdano, 147, Toronto, in 38 seconds of the second round of a scheduled eight-round wind-up bout Tuesday night at the Broadway Arena.

Phil Palmer, 142, Vancouver, knocked out Charley Watkins, 141½, Cleveland, in the third round of a scheduled six-rounder.

Lieut. T. Reardon Still Out of Action

OTTAWA (CP)—Lieut. Terry Reardon of Edmonton, former National Hockey League star with Montreal Canadiens and Boston Bruins, was wounded in France Aug. 16 and still is out of action, the defence department said today.

Details of Reardon's wound were not revealed, but it was understood he was not considered in serious condition.

San Francisco Baseball Champs

Weird Play Decides

LOS ANGELES (AP)—For the sixth time in as many tries, Los Angeles has lost the Governor's Cup playoff series among first division teams of the Coast League.

Lefty O'Doul's San Francisco Seals beat them at Wrigley Field last night, 4 to 2, on what perhaps was the weirdest play of the entire year in all baseball.

Los Angeles recently won the pennant for the second year in a row and San Francisco now has taken the playoff twice running. The Seals picked up $5,000 in prize money for their accomplishment, the Angels $2,500 to go with the $2,500 they got for winning the pennant. Portland and Oakland, eliminated in the playoffs, got $1,250 each.

Last night's seventh game of the final series, played before 13,385 spectators, was decided in the fifth inning. Here's what happened: Helme Steinbacher and Gus Suhr of San Francisco led off with singles. Ben Guinetti then bunted to advance the runners. Los Angeles pitcher Pancho Cordero pounced on the ball, made a perfect throw to third base for what should have been an easy force out.

COSTLY FALL

But—Stan Gray, in covering the base, tripped, fell, and the ball went bounding into the far reaches of left field. Steinbacher scored. Suhr scored. Even Guinetti, who bunted, crossed the plate. Yet his bunt didn't go half way to the pitcher's mound.

The Angels tried hard to save the game in the ninth. They loaded the bases with one out. Then Stan Gray strode to the plate. Here was a chance to redeem himself. He let a third strike go by. Manager Bill Sweezy charged onto the field, argued with umpire Bill Doran, and was chased to the clubhouse. The veteran Johnny Moore batted for catcher Billy Sarni and lifted a long, high foul that rightfielder Logan Hooper snared.

Short score follows:

	R.	H.	E.
San Francisco	4	13	1
Los Angeles	2	6	1

Toronto Boy Dies From Grid Injuries

TORONTO (CP)—Franklyn (Bud) Bishop, 18, died in hospital last night of head injuries he suffered Monday in a high school football game. Playing left inside wing for Northern Vocational, Bishop appeared to be injured in a scrimmage. He was carried from the playing field unconscious and was removed to hospital. Coroner W. E. Brown is investigating and an autopsy was to be performed today.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (CP)—Joe Miller, 141½, Buffalo, scored a technical knockout victory over Tony Brandino, 147, Hamilton, Ont., in the fifth round of a scheduled six-round boxing bout here Tuesday night.

City, Municipalities Seek Data On Merger

Mayor Andrew McGavin, with Reeves W. L. Woodhouse, Oak Bay, and Thomas Hatfield, Esquimalt, at a conference in the mayor's office Tuesday, decided to contact other districts where municipal amalgamation has taken place as they advanced further plans for a Greater Victoria.

In a joint statement following the session, the municipal leaders said they were agreed on the principle of a Greater Victoria move and were of opinion such would be of definite advantage to the community at large. Pending replies from other centres where amalgamation has been undertaken, no date was set for future meetings.

Attending the session Tuesday was E. W. Ismay, mentioned earlier as a possible commissioner if the municipalities decide to proceed with the plan.

Does Life Insurance give good value?

With high taxes, increased living costs, and a ceiling on wages and salaries, enough money can still be saved to pay for life insurance. For example, compare the cost of an Ordinary Life Policy with the cost of a few everyday items.

$2500

The price of one pound of candy per week buys a Great-West Life policy for $2500. That means $2500 of protection till your family is self-supporting, then cash or an income in your later years.

$6000

The price of four movie tickets per week would buy a Great-West Life policy for $6000. For your own peace of mind, you must have insurance. In no other way can you provide, at such low cost, for whatever may happen.

$7500

The price of one package of cigarettes per day would buy a $7500 policy with the Great-West Life. That means a guarantee of $7500 in cash for your family if you should die, a nest egg for you in the future if you live.

The price of one game of golf each week would buy a Great-West Life policy for $10,000. If you paid the first premium today, your family would get $10,000 cash if you died tomorrow. What would they do without life insurance?

Life insurance is not a luxury. It is an essential you must place first on your list along with food, clothing and shelter. Life insurance alone can guarantee food, clothing and shelter for your loved ones if you should die, and for you in your later years if you live. A Great-West Life man will be glad to help you with your insurance problems.

The above examples are based on an Ordinary Life Policy taken at age 25. Life Insurance premiums, of course, vary with the age and plan selected.

20 Schools in B.C. Closed; No Teachers

Twenty schools remained closed at the end of September, because of lack of teachers, Hon. H. C. T. Perry, Minister of Education, said today.

At the beginning of September 50 schools were unable to open, but teachers became available during the month.

The school closure is mostly in the northern central part of the province, where the schools are in isolated sections, the teachers preferring, when they have a choice, centres of population.

British Columbia is better off than any other Canadian province. In Alberta and Saskatchewan hundreds of schools are closed because there are not enough teachers.

A number of prairie teachers have come to B.C. to teach this year, attracted by larger salaries and more favorable working conditions.

Children unable to attend school are taking the Department of Education's correspondence courses, sent out from Victoria.

In Police Court

Arrested at 11 Tuesday night by Detectives P. W. Richards and Maurice Wilkinson, James Alexander Whitley was charged in city court today with breaking and entering Sept. 27 by night the home of Robert David Jones, 1906 Duchess. The accused, who reserved plea and election, was remanded until Friday.

Packinghouse Workers Vote Strike By 4,500 to 6

TORONTO (CP)—Fred W. Dowling, Canadian director of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (C.I.O.) today issued a statement saying he had "repeatedly warned the companies" that a serious situation existed in the packing industry, and that "a strike is a very imminent possibility."

The statement added that seven plants now have voted in a nation-wide strike vote, and that 4,500 workers have voted in favor of a strike and six against. In five of the plants the vote in favor of a strike was unanimous. Four of the plants so far reporting were in the Canada Packers' chain, three in Burris' and one in Swift's.

REFERS TO STORY

Reference was made in the statement to a Winnipeg story carried Tuesday night by the Canadian Press quoting Mr. Dowling as having said in Toronto that the strike vote "does not mean a general walkout" and "we simply want to show the National War Labor Board where we stand on the issue."

"On the contrary, I have repeatedly warned the companies that a serious situation exists in the packing industry and a strike is a very imminent possibility, and have appealed to them to remedy the situation," said the statement.

Canadian National's Great War Record

During the five years of war, Canadian National Railways has handled 120,000,000 passengers and carried 345,000,000 tons of freight, according to Alastair Fraser, vice-president in charge of traffic, visiting Victoria from Montreal. C.N.R. passenger business is running at the rate of 35,000,000 passengers a year and freight business at 80,000,000 tons annually.

Earnings of the company for 1943 grossed approximately half a billion dollars and this high level has been maintained during the present year. The vice-president disclosed, pointing to Canadian National war transport as the biggest job in the history of Canada. The company employs 103,000 male and female workers in Canada and the United States. It has approximately 20,000 employees in the armed services. This would represent more than 20 per cent of the company's staff for the year 1939.

C.N.R. has done its war job without any substantial increase in locomotives and cars, passenger or freight. It could only have been done, Mr. Fraser states, with the full co-operation of all shippers, boards of trade and other public bodies, as well as that of the general public. There is at present in Canada as a whole—not only in western Canada—more than a billion bushels of grain, probably a billion and a quarter—wheat, oats, barley, flax, he points out. This great crop represents an additional load on the nation's transport, especially in view of the high tonnage of war and other products of industry and agriculture moving.

Victorians Return From Overseas Duty

VANCOUVER (CP)—Lieut. D. L. Hatch and Lieut. R. J. Weir, both of Victoria, are among several soldiers who will arrive here tomorrow from service overseas. Other Victorians in the group include Pte. B. A. Coburn, Sgt. J. R. D. Falconer, Cpl. R. Martin, and Pte. J. Roberts.

Bank of Montreal President Discusses Improvements Here

By DICK FREEMAN
Plans for the expansion of the bank's main premises at the intersection of Douglas and Yates Sts. are occupying the attention of George W. Spinney, president of the Bank of Montreal, while he is in Victoria.

Recently the Bank of Montreal purchased Yates Street property immediately east of the granite-pillared headquarters branch in this city with a view to undertaking much-needed additions as soon as construction conditions permit. The proposed additions here will be in the nature of a postwar project.

First definite announcement regarding the bank's intentions was made by President Spinney today when interviewed at the Empress following arrival from Montreal.

"One of the purposes of my visit," said Mr. Spinney, "is to discuss with our Victoria manager, G. Hamilton Harman, plans for enlarging our premises here to take in the property recently acquired."

He did not go into details of the proposed new construction, but intimated the new additions would be in harmony with the existing style of architecture with the most modern type of interior appointments.

"PICK-UP TO EMPLOYMENT"—Revealing something of the bank's all-Canada postwar policy, President Spinney said: "We are studying the whole question of premises and equipment embracing all needed improvements with a view to making our postwar contribution to the general industry of the country and as a pick-up to employment."

"SURE LOAN GOING OVER"—Mr. Spinney will be in Victoria for a day or two, going into the bank's business and incidentally meeting and talking over Canada's seventh Victory Loan with Victoria officials of the National War Finance Committee. Until recently Mr. Spinney was active chairman of the N.W.F.C., now presided over by Graham Towers, president of the Bank of Canada. Although Mr. Spinney's bank presidential duties now take up much of his time, he is deeply interested in the affairs of N.W.F.C., still holds the office of honorary chairman.

"I have every confidence that the Canadian people will over-subscribe this loan as they have done the others," said Mr. Spinney.

Labor Figures Open Parley Here Friday

The first annual convention of the Shipyards' General Workers' Federation will open here Friday, federation officials announced today. Fifty-two delegates, representing 15,000 British Columbia shipyard workers in Canadian Congress of Labor Unions, are expected to attend.

Deputy Labor Minister Adam Bell and Lt.-Cmdr. H. C. C. Doubeney of the R.C.N. will take part in opening ceremonies when George Currie, industrial relations officer of the federal Department of Labor, will address delegates.

The federation was inaugurated last February when 10 former local chartered unions of the C.I.O. employed in shipbuilding in British Columbia formed the new organization on an industrial basis.

City Council, at its next meeting, will be asked to approve replacement of 500 feet of underground cable and rewinding of six transformers used in the city cluster light system, at a cost of $400. That course was recommended Tuesday by the lights committee which also instructed W. B. McKicking, lighting superintendent, to report on the underground cables.

Two divisions have now passed their quota, the outside division, with a quota of $700 has already collected $830.96.

The hotel division, under S. W. Holmes, has collected $1,013.90 to date. Quota was $1,000. Mr. Holmes says confidently that he expects to bring in several hundred more dollars.

Public service division turned in $995 yesterday, most of it from provincial government employees, which augmented the total of $68,398.89.

Merriman Round-up...

WITH A "What to Do With the Japanese" discussion flaring up in Seattle again one writer suggests that captured Japanese Islands be made permanent territory of the United States for the exclusive use of U.S. citizens of Japanese blood and amending the U.S. constitution to read that all persons of Japanese blood, born in the United States be citizens of the Pacific Islands territory only, and that no Japanese be permitted to enter the United States as a permanent citizen. Another writer is irate at the suggestion Japanese be returned to the Pacific coast area. "Leave them in the camps until the boys come home and we will vote on it in the American way and abide by the decision," she says.

A SOLDIER'S WIFE, here from eastern Canada, said her friends envied her when she was coming west to B.C. with its beautiful scenery and magnificent climate but now she wishes they had come instead. "Since arriving in Vancouver I have come to thoroughly dislike it," she says. Her reasons, people say and write so many "childish," "catfish" and "petty" things about eastern provinces "I for one," she says, "will be glad to go home when the war is over to a place where people aren't catty and childish."

D. T. KRISTIANSEN, after looking at a CBC program for one day "takes his pen in his hand to complain." There wasn't a Canadian program in the lot of it, he says, and 75 per cent of it was U.S.A. A publicly-owned corporation making big profits should spend a lot more money encouraging Canadian talent and developing Canadian tradition and culture. "We have no national theatre," he says, "but the CBC could and should be the cradle of Canadian art."

JOHN OSTBERG sends in word of his fear that while our boys are fighting and giving their lives, "this monster of Fascism is creeping on us at home." He says conscription of manpower alone is definitely fascist and believes it should be balanced by conscription of everything—machines, material, money. He admits his plan is sponsored by Technocracy...

GEORGE W. SPINNEY
... Checks building plans.

He saying that the objective of the loan opening Oct. 23 would be $1,300,000,000. While this was the highest objective of the war, it was less than the total amount subscribed in the sixth loan.

"I do not think people can afford to be complacent. The war isn't won yet. There is some hard fighting ahead, and it may be a tough road," he said.

"On my way here I saw a hospital train headed west with wounded men aboard. Some of them had arms and legs amputated. Others had shrapnel through their lungs; others with their faces terribly burned. I looked at these men and wondered how anyone could fail to respond to the job here at home."

"... like subscribing to the Victory Loan."

The well-known banker spoke of observations which impressed him on his western Canadian tour.

THIS BLESSED LAND

"This is a blessed land," he said with conviction.

"I've never seen it more lovelier... lush crops, great herds of fat cattle, a general air of prosperity all through the country."

Traveling with the financier is Mrs. Spinney, also O. R. Sharp, assistant general manager, western division, Montreal, and Mrs. Sharp, and A. T. Corner, assistant to the president.

More Generous To Community Chest

The residential areas of Greater Victoria are contributing to the Community Chest more generously than they have any time during the past three years, it was emphasized at campaign headquarters, 1006 Government Street today.

Miss Sara Spencer's division is already $1,000 over its take of the past two years and there is still more money coming in. The division has only a little more than $1,000 to go to make up its quota of $21,000.

These results are the more gratifying it was brought out because Miss Spencer has 50 fewer canvassers than last year.

By the end of the week it is anticipated that the same amount as was raised last year will be in, and campaign officials have hopes of topping last year's record by $5,000 to $10,000.

Two divisions have now passed their quota, the outside division, with a quota of $700 has already collected $830.96.

The hotel division, under S. W. Holmes, has collected $1,013.90 to date. Quota was $1,000. Mr. Holmes says confidently that he expects to bring in several hundred more dollars.

Public service division turned in $995 yesterday, most of it from provincial government employees, which augmented the total of $68,398.89.

F.D.R.'s Silence On Tragedy of Warsaw Stresses Tension

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt, stressing by implication the explosiveness of the present Russo-Polish situation, has declined to talk about the end of Polish resistance to the Germans inside the battered city of Warsaw.

Asked for comment, the President told his press conference Tuesday that he supposed he knew as much about the Warsaw affair as any American, but he did not know enough to talk about it.

Other officials, including some who have been well informed on previous developments in Poland's tangled affairs, described the end of resistance as the last act of a tragedy which included: (1) Apparent Russian refusal to supply the Polish patriots for several weeks, and (2) two Red Army military setbacks before the gates of the Polish capital.

The political importance of the Warsaw incident is considered certain to raise fresh problems of British-U.S.-Russian solidarity.

MAD LARGE FORCE

In Warsaw the Polish Gen. Bor had a considerable underground force with a fairly large hoard of supplies late in July when a Russian army attacked along the eastern approaches to the Polish capital. What happened from that time on is the subject of bitter controversy in which one of the latest developments was a charge by the Soviet-sponsored Polish Committee that Bor was a criminal for having ordered his men into open fighting against the Germans.

The "criminal" charge is not accepted by officials here. For one thing, Bor was named Polish army commander by the Polish government in London, which Moscow opposes. For another, it is widely accepted in United States diplomatic quarters that Russian propaganda, if not the Russian military and political command, bears considerable responsibility for the timing of the outbreak inside Warsaw.

CALLED ON POLES

A check of official sources discloses that the following sequence of events bearing on the Warsaw tragedy is generally accepted here in the absence of fully documented official versions from either Moscow or London:

In late July the magazine War and the Working Class predicted Warsaw would be the first of the eastern European capitals to be liberated. The Russian summer offensive was then rolling full strength. The Russian radio was pounding home to Polish patriots the call to arise against the Germans.

The Polish government had given Gen. Bor authority to strike inside Warsaw when he thought the time was ripe. Bor apparently decided the hour for action had come. He evidently made the decision without actual word of Russian plans, but is said to have communicated his intention to the Russians.

The Red Army leaders did nothing to discourage the fighting because they expected they would be in Warsaw shortly.

COULDN'T STOP

The Polish patriots, having joined battle with the Germans, could not stop fighting. They conquered an important area of the city and began appealing for outside help. It is at this point that Russian policy is only guessed at by officials here. The guess is that Moscow, having no early prospect of liberating the city with Russian forces, decided to ignore Bor, since to acknowledge him would have been to recognize the influence the Polish government wielded inside Poland.

There followed a period of bitter recriminations during which British and Polish fliers at a heavy cost in men and planes delivered some supplies to Bor's beleaguered garrison. One mystery was why the Russians would not even allow the British planes to land at Russian bases, which greatly increased the hazards.

Toward the middle of September it suddenly became apparent that without fanfare the Russians themselves had begun delivering supplies to Bor. This raised considerable hope in Washington that an end to the Russo-Polish diplomatic row might be near. The Polish government dismissed its war minister and appointed Gen. Bor to replace him.

Then followed the denunciation of Bor.

NAZIS TAKE HOLD
LONDON (AP)—German propagandists, capitalizing on the collapse of resistance within Warsaw in their campaign to drive a wedge between the Allies, said today that Moscow had welcomed the Polish disaster because it regarded the patriot uprising as the responsibility of the Polish exile government in London.

"The British government, for its part," said a Berlin broadcast recorded by the Associated Press, "has now completely abandoned

Roaming Adventurer Resting in Victoria

After years of travel, in which he covered many and most parts of the world, and saw service in several theatres of war with the British armed forces, G. F. Peebles, better known in some parts as "Capt. Canuck," 74-year-old veteran of the London blitz, sometime member of British Army Intelligence and military instructor in South Africa, has found sanctuary in Victoria. Weary and ill after a life crowded with adventure, he is now in the Mayfair Nursing Home.

From his diary of his adventures, Peebles has written a brochure entitled "The Price of Peace and Cause of the War." It deals with his travels in India, China, Egypt, Alaska, Yukon, South Sea Islands, Australia and New Zealand and the Belgian Congo.

Moving on to the Old Country in 1940, he joined the home guard and carried his impressions of Britain's war on the home front in two poems, "Songs of the Blitzkrieg" and "The Battle of London."

Dogs Killing Stock Menace in Saanich

Three separate applications from Saanich residents for compensation for stock killed by dogs drew comments of "It's getting to be a regular menace" from members of the Saanich Council Tuesday night.

First application read was from E. M. Maher, who complained he had lost seven sheep destroyed by dogs. The council granted payment of $7.50 for each sheep. Sgt. Eric Elwell, Saanich police, reported he had found a number of dogs on the Indian reservation, left unattended, and convinced they were the killers, had them shot.

Next, the council moved payment of $3.50 each to R. N. Lamont in compensation for three turkeys killed, and W. J. Filmer is to receive 75 cents each for loss of 50 chickens killed by dogs.

Various members of the council said there had been cases of killing and it was said a considerable number of chickens had been found under a barn on the Indian reserve, where they had been dragged by dogs.

CADOT THEATRE

With no law but the wild sea, the survivors of the torpedoed ship meet the problems of life hand death and romance in mid-Atlantic, in Alfred Hitchcock's production of "Lifeboat," by John Steinbeck, which is currently at the Cadot Theatre.

Tallulah Bankhead is starred in the cast, which features William Bendix, Walter Slezak, Mary Anderson, John Hodiak, Henry Hull, Heather Angel, Hume Cronyn and Canada Lee.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRE

The tangle of harsh jealousies, deep hatred, and grasping greed that led to the murder, in other words, the story of "Crime Doctor's Strangest Case," Columbia's second thriller in this series, will be untangled by Warner Baxter, its star, for the last time on the screen of the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres today.

Taking part as feature players in this mystery are: Lynn Merrick, Reginald Denny, Barton MacLane, Jerome Cowan, Rose Hobart, Gloria Dickson, Virginia Brissac, Lloyd Bridges and Constance Worth. Eugene J. Forde directed.

RIO THEATRE

Preston Foster, Lloyd Nolan, William Bendix, Richard Conte and Anthony Quinn got a real taste of jungle warfare—from a sartorial point of view—during the shooting of 20th Century-Fox's picturization of Richard Tregaskis' "Guadalcanal Diary," which is now at the Rio Theatre.

The players, heading the cast of the film, had to wear the same Marine Corps "utility suits" from the beginning right through to the end. Reasons: Most of the marines on Guadalcanal wore theirs throughout the entire action, and by the end of it were a very ragged lot—an effect Director Sargent wanted.

ATLAS THEATRE

The moon and Dorothy Lamour are inseparable, cinematically speaking. In more than half of the total number of films she has made, the lovely Paramount star has sung about the moon.

Her newest picture, Paramount's "Road to Morocco," which co-stars her with Bing Crosby and Bob Hope and which is now at the Atlas Theatre, features as its leading musical number a song called "Moonlight Becomes You," by Johnny Burke and James Van Heusen. Dorothy sings it in a comedy sequence.

Seized in the drive towards the Nazi frontier and sent back to Toulon for imprisonment, Nazi prisoners get a hot reception from the newly liberated French. While Allied soldiers protect the Germans from any actual harm, they have found it impossible to prevent expressions of hatred by the recently oppressed victims of Germany. This woman gives a running Nazi a harmless but doubtless soul-satisfying kick.

Sailors, Chutist Fined $15 Each For Zombie Assault

EDMONTON (CP) — Saying there will not be any riots in Edmonton "if I can help it," Magistrate Millar Tuesday lectured two sailors and a paratrooper before fining them each $15 and costs on charge of assaulting a non-active member of the Canadian army.

The three accused servicemen, who pleaded guilty, all wore stars of overseas service. One sailor was spending his first leave home in more than two years.

Police said the trio beat up on the complainant in downtown Edmonton Monday.

U.K., Dominions Plan Postwar Migrations

LONDON (CP-Reuters).—W. J. Brown, Independent, asked in the House of Commons whether the Under-Secretary of State for Dominion Affairs, Emrys Evans, could make any statement "as to government policy for increasing the British population in the Dominions."

Mr. Evans replied: "The government is at present in consultation with the Dominion governments on the subject."

Replying to further questions, Mr. Evans said: "Of course the British government is in favor of migration and of course it must be carried out in close contact with immigrants."

Odlum Predicts Chiang, Communist Union By December

OTTAWA (CP) — Maj. Gen. Victor Odlum, Canadian ambassador to China, Tuesday predicted political unity in that country in November or December.

Speaking at a Canadian Club luncheon gathering at which Prime Minister King sat at the head table, the white-haired, soldier-diplomat spoke of the apparent cleavage between the Chungking government and the Communist government of the north and said this would be dissolved at important meetings to be held in November and December and a unified China would result.

He did not say how the differences would be settled. He said, however, he had recently talked to one of the three most important Chinese Communist leaders who told him there were no actual differences in the aims of both groups.

"The Communist leader told me there was no real difference in the aims of both groups and that settlement could easily be reached by a re-organization of the government to include Communists," the general said.

"Be fair to China," he urged. "She needs our sympathetic understanding in the tremendous problems she is facing."

Hearing of Slaying Delayed for 1 Year

OTTAWA (CP)—An Eskimo woman, Miktaeyout, suspected of having killed her husband more than two years ago, probably will be brought before a court at Fort Ross, 300 miles north of the Arctic Circle, when the annual supply ship Nascope visits there next year or as soon as arrangements can be made.

The supply ship failed to reach Fort Ross in 1942 and 1943, although on both occasions Miktaeyout and witnesses, with a R.C.M.P. constable, were there in readiness for a hearing to be held. No charge of murder has been laid against the woman who professed her readiness to present herself to the police whenever they required.
